Students: Grow Your Future

The New England Society for Healthcare Strategy (NESHS) is committed to the professional growth of its student members, offering numerous networking and educational opportunities throughout the year. Our goal is to enhance the effectiveness of more than 200 industry professionals and student members, from across New England and beyond, in healthcare strategy, marketing, business development and implementation.

"I got the opportunity to network with senior leadership in this industry and gain ongoing mentorship from many NESHS members, which opened the door to several career opportunities."

Find your next role

- Develop a network of experienced professionals who can connect you to your next internship or job
